Make Better Choices to

HELP FIGHT INFLAMMATION

Here are 4 ways to make better choices to reduce inflammation.

BLOCK

Antioxidants block free radicals from triggering inflammation. Incorporate organic fruits and vegetables in every meal. Indulge in snacks of nuts or seeds, or nut/seed butters.

NOURISH

Minerals, such as magnesium, can be found in nuts and seeds. A magnesium deficiency leads to stress in the body and leads to inflammation. According to a 2015 review in the journal Nutrients, consuming whey protein has anti-inflammatory benefits.

MODULATE

Inflammation is controlled by the immune system. Omega-3 fatty acids found in fish and some seeds have a modulating effect on the immune system. Probiotics found in fermented foods do too.

CLEANSE

Ditch the foods with colouring, preservatives and added sugar. Eat more chlorophyll instead! According to a study reported in Inflammation, chlorophyll can block the activation of messengers that make inflammation flare up.

Quick Tips for Inflammation:

- When choosing foods choose fresh and aim for variety.
- A rainbow on your plate means a rainbow of antioxidants to shut down inflammation.
- Vitamin C is an antioxidant.
- Resveratrol provides antioxidants.
